'f I put pen to paper to write out my life
For we've all got a story to tell
Your name would appear on the cover
On each page, ev'ry sentence as well

Oh, the book of my life goes through stages
And my most loyal reader is you
You're the one who keeps turning the pages
You're the one that I keep turning to

Without you my life has no reason or rhyme
And I don't have a story to give
With you all the pieces fall in to line
And you give me a reason to live.

Oh, the book.....

Ev'ry word is a whisper, each sentence a sigh
Each chapter's a kiss, a cry
Of love, love

Oh, the book.....

Oh, the book of my life through the ages
Is the tale of a heart ever true
For it's you that keeps turning the pages
And it's you that I keep turning to

Each page is a statement of love
